CHILD TAKEN FROM MRS. MARGERUM

Court Orders Abington Woman to Surrender Daughter to Care of Grandparents—Mother is Charged with Kidnaping Her Orphan—Affecting Scene in Court.

Mrs. Albert Margerum, of Abington, was arraigned in court at Norristown Saturday and charged with having kidnaped her daughter, Maria, when several years ago, the child was living with her father and grandparents, Edward P. Coles, father, and Moses and Louisa J. Coles, grandparents, of Allentown. The habeas corpus proceedings were brought by the Coles against Mrs. Margerum (divorced and remarried) to get possession of the child. In this they were successful for the time being, for Judge Swartz decreed that, pending final disposition of the case, the child, now about 5 years old, should be given into the custody of its grandparents, with whom the girl's father lives.

This edict of the Court caused a scene of weeping on the part of the child and her mother, who, by the way, sat throughout the trial with the child on her lap and frequently showed her with kisses, while the child turned her arms about her mother's neck.

According to testimony, Coles left his wife when Maria was no longer preferred by her. He took the child, then a baby, and went to live with his folks. Several years later the mother came to where the child was living and begged to see her daughter. The grandparents permitted her to do so, and then made the request that she be permitted to take the child around to her mother's house, that she not, in any way, be for a while, the grandparents consented. That was the last they saw of her until recently, when the woman and child were discovered to be living at Abington. Proceedings were at once brought to regain possession of the child.

There will be a race at Warminster for the benefit of Abington, Willow Grove and Hatboro fire companies on Saturday, November 11, 1911, starting on the following Wednesday, it is inclement on Saturday, November 11th.

Letters to the Editor

The Spirit invites letters. It is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Spirit but that they be of an interesting and original nature. In order that they may be assured of prompt publication, the writer's name and address must be given, to be printed or not, as desired.

Dear Spirit:

Please print the following letter to Dr. Franklin, Secretary.

There is a wide difference of opinion expressed by voters throughout Moreland township concerning the proposed changes of the road commissioners for the past two years, therefore, inasmuch as the figures in the public Spirit are the taxpayers' property, we the undersigned voters, respectfully request the road commissioners of this township, to have the records of the gross receipts and expenditures, for each year of township, published in the next issue of the Spirit.

George W. Quiley is now able to be out doors.

Mrs. David Evans has been on the sick list during the past week.

Springfield water was installed in several houses on Cherry street during the past week.

A large new double corn crib is being erected on the Cannon farm, on the Pitswater road.

Mrs. Wilmer Allen and two sons, of Jamison, visited her son, Ellwood Allen, on Cherry street, on Thursday.

Fred Mahan will leave this Saturday for Washington, when Chief Bender will spend a week visiting relatives.

The schools throughout the township will be closed next week, as the teachers will go to the county institute held at Norristown.

Several from our town saw the Athletic-New York game in Philadelphia on Thursday, when Chief Bender won the final game for the "White Elephants" from the "Giants."

Mrs. Kershaw died suddenly on Sunday night of heart trouble, at the home of her son-in-law, Walter Jacobs, who resides in John Margerum's house at Crestmont. Her funeral was held on Thursday, burial at Frankford.

There is great interest in the award of the contract for macadamizing Moreland road. The latest advices from Harrisburg indicate that the bids for the work opened at the State House Department are very high, exceeding, it is said $25,000.

HALLOWELL IRWIN GRANTED DIVORCE

Wife Ran Off with Another Man is Alleged—She is Mabel Harper, Daughter of Late Senator Harper.

Among the decrees of divorce handed down last Monday in Common Pleas Court No. 1 in Philadelphia, was that in favor of Hallowell Irwin against Mabel Harper Irwin, daughter of the late Senator Thomas S. Harper, of Jenkintown.

While the papers in the case were impounded and the testimony taken privately before a master, it was understood at the time Mr. Irwin brought the action for divorce that the charges were infidelity and desertion. The co-respondent was said at the time to have been a leading lawyer and citizen of Delaware.

The attorney for Mr. Irwin said that while the desertion charge would play a conspicuous part in the proceedings, the period, six months, was not sufficient under the Pennsylvania law and that the wife's home and her looks nothing would have to be principally relied upon.

The disappearance of Mrs. Irwin from her home, York road and Washington Lane, early in June last year, caused something of a sensation. Without giving her husband or mother any hint whatever, Mrs. Irwin, who has been considered a beauty, left her home and for several weeks nothing was heard of her. At the time she had a baby girl about twenty months old.

Mrs. Irwin returned to Philadelphia as mysteriously as she had disappeared, but she made no effort to rejoin her husband or for as is known. She is now living with her aunt, Mrs. Griscum, in Jenkintown, it is said. Mr. Irwin is a former newspaper man.

SERIOUSLY CHARGED BY NIECE.

John Burrell, colored boot-black, who has been about the village for several years, was committed to Norristown jail this week, to await trial on a charge of rape.

Burrell, who has been in more or less trouble before, was with his wife on the day and the children have been looked after by a fifteen year niece of Mrs. Burrell, who comes from Camden, N. J.

It was the parents of this little girl, who is exceedingly frail in appearance, that brought the serious charge against Burrell. It is reported that Burrell gave the little girl a dollar and a half what had transpired. The girl took the money and told beside.

At the meeting of the Willow Grove fire company held on Thursday night a nomination of officers was made for coming year.

Mr. Weaver has returned to his home on Lukens avenue and Moreland road, where he has been for several years, and is now in excellent health. He recently met with a serious mishap, when he had one of his fingers fractured and shoulder blade broken.

James Slugg is the Republican candidate for registry assessor in the up per district of Moreland. His opponent on the Democratic ticket is Raymond Crawford, and both of these popular young men are hustling among the field for political support on election day.

Services at St. Anne's chapel for the twentieth Sunday after Trinity will be as follows: Sunday school at 10 a. m.; morning prayer at 11 a. m.; evening prayer and sermon at 7.30 o'clock. Thursday, November 1st, being All Saints' day, will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 9.30 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Lichtenstein, of Philadelphia, who have a daughter, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alfred Lichtenstein, with the allegation of perjury in a Philadelphia case, now filed in court, claim that she deserted their son, Mrs. Lichtenstein, Jr., is the wife of a manufacturer who recently died at Crestmont.

The monthly meeting of the fire company was held on Thursday night. A committee was appointed to act in conjunction with the committees from the Abington and Hatboro Fire Companies, pertaining to the benefit to be given at the Warminster driving track, Saturday, November 4th. Tickets for the benefit will be obtained from members of the fire company.

The Willow Grove Fire Company accompanied by the drum corps, participated in the parade of the Hosiann Valley Fire Company, which was postponed until Monday night from last Saturday night, to the benefit of the fire company.

Our boys turned out in firemen's uniform and made a splendid showing at the parade, and over to the Valley in automobiles.

OGONTZ AND ASHBOURNE.

ADVANTAGE OF A MUNICIPAL PLAN TO BE PAID FOR BY THE TAXPAYER.

The Township Commissioners are greatly interested in the project for a township sewerage system, which is regarded as a vital necessity by the State and local health boards.

There is a proposition before the voters to bond the township for $500,000. This money will enable the township to establish a municipal sanitary sewerage plant, which is considered much better for the tax payers than a disposal plant owned by a corporation. The voters of the township will cast their ballots upon this question on November 7, at the general election.

The Commissioners have recently sent out a letter on this subject from which the following extracts are taken:

Plans at this time include sewerage for all of the built up sections, with a trunk line of sufficient capacity to take care of future developments, and a disposal plant in the future.

The trunk line, main sewerage, disposal plant and laterals will be built and paid for out of the proposed loan. The laterals being the sewers for the property owners, these laterals will be charged against the property owners at a cost approximately one dollar per foot.

In order to make this clear a property having 50 feet front will be charged approximately $50. After the laterals are finished this charge will be against the property owners, and the proceeds will be used to pay the five hundred thousand dollar loan.

The maintenance cost, interest on bonds and the sinking fund will be taken care of by charging a reasonable sewer rental. Only sufficient rental will be charged to properly to liquidate the indebtedness and cost of operation.

At this time we are unable to give the voters the exact charge per room. However we can assure the voters and taxpayers that the rental charge will be considerable lower than the rental being paid in some sections of our township to private sewer corporations.

Under township ownership the voters will regulate the rates and charges and management of the sewers through the men they elect to office for the purpose.

Should the State Health Department instruct all property owners to build private systems of sewerage in order to stop stream pollution and prevent an epidemic of contagious diseases, that it will be far more economical for the property owners than a perfectly sanitary sewerage system owned and operated by the township.

It is estimated that it will require about two years to complete the work, and it is the intention to submit the plans and specifications for the proposed sewerage system to competent consulting engineers and to the State Board of Health for final approval.

$500,000 SEWER LOAN.

The Question Confronting the Voters of Cheltenham Township.

Dear Spirit:

This is the most important question ever placed before the voters of Cheltenham township.

It is the method of sewerage and the most economical for the people of this community is a subject that has long been considered by the Township Commissioners during the past two years, and they have been at a loss to know what to do.

They have given much thought and thought to this sewerage problem, and in submitting this proposition to the people for their approval, do so because they have become thoroughly convinced it is for the public's great benefit.

The increase in population and the great quantity of waste water and refuse matter to be disposed of have so multiplied the wells throughout the township that it is becoming a serious matter for the ground to absorb this pollution.

Many of the private sewerage systems only carry the refuse from the private house, where sickness and disease may be, to make final disposal of it in the streams and creeks, to the great danger of all the people.

The State Board of Health has insisted this evil must be corrected in Cheltenham township.

There is not the slightest doubt that if we do not decide this question of sewerage for ourselves others will do it for us.

We are not asked to vote whether Cheltenham township shall have a sewerage system; that is sure to come, no matter what we vote.

The question we are asked to decide at the election on November 7, is whether this sewerage system through out the township shall be built under the management of our township Commissioners, and do we approve of a loan of $500,000 for this purpose.

If we, the people of this township, do not build and own the sewers there is not the slightest doubt that they will be built and owned by some private corporation, organized for that purpose, and we will be compelled to pay for the sewerage system, under the terms and charges such corporations will impose.

It will always remain optional with us, as the State Board of Health, sooner or later, will compel this action.

munty to comply with their rules, and the of the State.

Have not the people of this township had experience enough with the heavy charges made by corporations giving public service?

Have we forgotten the action of the sewer company, which practically doubled our rates for water?

The private sewerage plants in this township have made some very heavy charges also.

Many people do not realize how very moderate the charges would be under the plan as proposed by the Township Commissioners:

One dollar per front foot for each property connecting with the sewer; this charge is only made the first year and goes toward paying for the construction of the system. A person owning a corner property does not pay for sewer on both streets—for example, a lot having 50 feet on the front street and 150 feet on the side street would only pay $50 toward cost of sewerage.

The yearly charges would be estimated at about 75 cents to $1 per room for each house.

To realize how extremely moderate these charges are, we have the right to inquire into some of the charges made by the water and sewerage companies serving this and other townships.

I believe the best interests of all the people will be best served by voting to approve this loan.

P. C. Madeira is on a buying trip to Nova Scotia.

A. M. Friend, of Elkins avenue, sold his residence to Dr. Sibby, of Philadelphia.

The real estate holdings of the late Joseph Baker will be offered at public sale on November 21. This is a very valuable property.

The public schools throughout the township will be closed next week to allow the teachers to attend the institute at Norristown.

There was a public meeting held in the auditorium of the Cheltenham High School on Friday night, when the subject of sewerage was discussed.

JENKINTOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Michener entertained at dinner one day this week.

Next Monday evening a Democratic caucus will be held at Clayton's hall. The speakers will be Congressman Hildebrand, Assistant District Attorney McAvoy, Alexander Neely, candidate for Sheriff, William Maxwell, candidate for County Treasurer and others.

The Keystone-Democratic vote in this section will be surprisingly large.

INJURED GIRL GETS $7,500 DAMAGES

Miss Adella Trumbower Had Skull Fractured When Trolley Car Hit Carriage in Which She Was Riding—Accident Occurred Near Lansdale—Case Tried at Norristown.

Miss Adella Trumbower, of Coatesville, was awarded $7,500 in Civil Court at Norristown last Monday for injuries received on the night of January 22, 1910, near Lansdale, when a Lehigh Valley Transit Company car ran down a carriage in which she was an occupant. Her skull was fractured. The accident took place on the pike leading from Lansdale to North Wales and occurred about eleven o'clock. With Miss Trumbower at the time was her husband, Miss Helen Warburton, whom she was about to visit and Miss Warburton's brother and James Roberts.

Miss Trumbower had gone to Lansdale from Philadelphia where she was employed in a department store. The team was being driven on the trolley tracks which was said to be the only passageway because of the highway being filled with snow.

It was alleged that when the car was seen coming an attempt was made to get out of its path but the high walls of snow on each side prevented and the team was struck and the occupants injured.

Miss Trumbower was hurt the worst. At Charity Hospital, Norristown, to which she was rushed by a Lansdale physician, it was found by Dr. Drake that her skull was fractured and her brain oozed from the opening. By a delicate operation the life of the girl was saved, but the doctors testified that her injuries are of a permanent character.

The beauty of the young lady (she is 27 years of age) is marred by a very perceptible indentation on her forehead above the right eye.

The case was on trial before Judge Adams on Friday. The right eye was Weard for a week. Henry M. Brown represented the plaintiff and N. H. Lazerele the transit company.

Mr. Lazerele filed a motion for a new trial when he made the verdict. He gave as his reason for a rehearing of the case that the amount of the verdict was excessive.

Miss Warburton and Mr. Roberts, who figured in the accident and also District Attorney McAvoy, were tried of the case, were married on last Saturday. The groom is a resident of Norristown and the bride lives near West Point.

LANGHORNE BOARD OF TRADE

Congressman Moore Speaks Before Suburban Business Men.

At informal reception and banquet was held last Thursday night at the Langhorne Board of Trade, at the Bucks County Club, by the Langhorne Board of Trade.

Members of the Interstate Milk Producers' Association have decided to ask five cents a quart for milk until further notice. No lower wholesale quotation is anticipated during the winter.

The farmers contend that there is no profit for them at less than five cents a quart, because of the high price of feed. They also declare that they have lost money during the summer months because of the high price of milk by the local health authorities.

The State regulations that cause improvement to the dairy conditions for sanitary purposes are likewise increasing the production expenses.

The Philadelphia Milk Exchange members have not advanced the retail price.

ROBBERIES AT DOYLESTOWN

Burglars last Tuesday night robbed the residence of George C. Good, George Carver and Mrs. Elizabeth Rouse. At the homes of ex-Sheriff Alonzo Nicholas, Joseph A. Rouse and Charles Rouse the efforts of the raiders were unsuccessful.

The thieves just missed a load of bushels at the home of Joseph A. Rouse. Mr. Rouse was up most of the night watching for apple thieves, and had previously favored his orchard with visits. The thieves got into his house, but were evidently frightened away, as they got nothing.

ROBBER SUSPECTS UNDER ARREST

Four Men and a Woman Accused of Plundering Many Suburban Houses—Much Booty Recovered by Police—Over $7000 is Value of Stolen Articles.

Police authorities are confident that through the arrest of four men and a stylishly dressed woman they have broken up a daring band of home-breakers, who have been employing an automobile to carry away their loot from homes in Jenkintown, Oak Lane, Tiosa, Mount Airy, Chestnut Hill and Germantown during two months past.

The robbery complaint books at police headquarters show that more than $7000 in jewelry, money, costly raiment and silverware have rewarded the thieves for their boldness.

The four men and woman, who were arrested on Thursday, for a further hearing November 3, gave their names as Mrs. Louisa White, 461 North 13th street; Frederick J. Schmidt, 4175 Germantown avenue; Walter Merrick, 921 Buttonwood street; and Samuel Graham and George Cave, of 40 North Eighth street.

Merrick, Cave and Schmidt were charged with burglary and the others with receiving stolen goods. They were all held in the City Hall police court on Thursday.

The detectives said they had found valuable evidence of the stolen goods in a safe at 61 North Ninth street, which was said to belong to Cave, who acknowledged that he had purchased it from Schmidt and another man.

HOUSES PURCHASED FOR PARK

To make room for Bristol's proposed park these properties have been purchased: Thomas H. Fitchett, $2500; Catherine Rodgers, $2000; James J. Hughes, $2000; and David Neill, $3000. Joseph H. Grundy will pay for the purchase of the properties and present them to Bristol.

The acquisition of the houses will clear the tract from the intersection of the canal and the railroad to Beaver Dam road.

The Reading Railway Company is about to begin the erection of a new and attractive station at Valley Forge.

W. P. Baldwin & Co. have a contract for a two-story residence of brick and frame, 49 by 29 feet, in Chestnut Hill for F. D. Marriott.

A tract of seven and one-half acres fronting on Poppeness Creek, thirty-fifth Ward, Philadelphia, has been conveyed by Francis Dietrich to Henry Weigand for a consideration given in the deed as nominal.

W. John Stevens, Inc., has a contract to erect for Joseph C. Fraley, a three-story stone residence, $210 by 64 feet, on Chestnut Hill at avenue west of Germantown avenue, Chestnut Hill. The cost will be $15,000.

Sattler & Bros. of Montgomery township, have purchased from Howard Hughes the Wyn. Stay property below Lansdale for $4000. The farm consists of 28 acres and is situated on the Montgomery road.

Sheridan V. Stehle has sold to Charles McKinley for an archaic tract of $18,500 a plot of ground 225 feet by 131 feet, at the east corner of Rumbolt street and Old York road, Philadelphia. The ground is part of a plot 285 feet by 211 feet, which is assessed at $5000.

Three properties in Doylestown have been sold within a few days. Frank J. Rich has purchased the property on East State street in which he resides from Miss Martha Wood, of Philadelphia. Rev. T. Chalmers Potter, D. D., has bought the old McIntyre home, situated on Ashland street from Miss Elizabeth W. Barber. John Clemens has sold a lot on Green street to George C. Murray for $300.

Henry C. Biddle, real estate broker, of Ambler, has sold for George F. Stone, his farm on the Butler pike, near Ambler, adjoining William P. Jacoby, and others to John L. Morris, of Willow Grove, who will take possession about November 1st and improve the same. Note in another column Mr. Biddle's sales. The public sale held on October 11th by Mr. Biddle for H. Watson Hunter, was largely successful. Things brought good prices, the sale amounting to about $3500.00.

H. J. Dager, Inc., real estate agents, Ambler, report the following transactions made through their offices during the past week: Sold for the American Building & Loan association the property 336 Maple street, West Ambler, to private parties who purchase for investment purposes and who will take possession of same on or about December 1st. Also sold for Joseph L. Fretz, lot No. 65 fronting on Spring Garden street, Oak Park, Ambler, to Harry M. Cox, of Ambler. H. J. Dager, Inc., also for the account of Joseph H. Fretz have arranged for the erection of a modern brick and shingle dwelling on this lot, to be finished ready for occupancy by Mr. Cox on or before April 1, 1912. Mr. Fretz, who holds this house for Mr. Cox as part of his agreement in the sale of the lot, has placed a contract for the house with William Camburn, contractor, of Ambler, and Mr. Camburn expects to start work at once on the construction of this dwelling.

FACTORY SITE SOLD.

An 8 1/2-acre tract at Sixth street and Tabor road, Forty-second Ward, has been sold by the J. T. Jackson Company, brokers, to the Philadelphia Textile Machinery Company for a consideration close to $45,000. The tract is within one block of Tabor Station on the Reading Railway, and will be made ready immediately for the erection of a large group of factory buildings.

PROPERTIES BY SHERIFF.

Two Bucks county properties were sold at public sale at Doylestown, Friday morning, by Sheriff Henry S. Belder. The properties, prices and buyers were as follows: Real estate of John Hausmann, situated in Milford and West Rockhill townships, sold to Albert H. Krielen, for $10,000. The estate of Gertrude Russell, in Doylestown township, better known as Greer property, sold for $6000 to Josephine D. Kressler, plaintiff in the writ.

REEDER'S REAL ESTATE SALES.

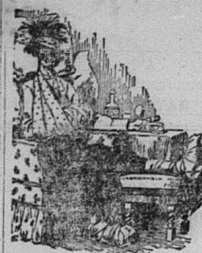

Horace G. Reeder, as agent, has sold the creamery property at Churchville, belonging to Edward Pywell, of East Stroudsburg, to George Falser, of Churchville, an adjoining property owner.

The same agent has sold for Samuel S. Leedom, of Richboro, his 18-acre farm, whereon he resides, to I. G. Gardener, of Perkasie. Possession will be given soon.

He also reports the sale of a building lot on Mercer street, Newtown, belonging to H. C. Worstall, to Clayton Keller.

Becoming confused by the powerful highlight on an Easton trolley car, Henry W. Gross, a prominent Doylestown resident, after signaling the car to stop, walked directly against it and was thrown six feet, landing with his wounded face in the city mud of Main street, unconscious and suffering a broken nose and severe lacerations.

Pain in Heart

"For two years I had pain in my heart, back and left side. Could not draw a deep breath or lie on left side, and a little exertion would cause palpitation. Under advice I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and Nerveine. I took about thirteen bottles, am in better health than I ever was, and have gained 14 pounds."

MRS. LILLIE THOMAS,

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

For many years Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been very successful in the treatment of heart troubles, because of its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles. Even in severe cases of long standing it has frequently prolonged life for many years after doctors had given up all hope, as proven by thousands of letters we have received from grateful people.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold by all druggists. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your druggist will return your money.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN A FOREWORD.

It being the earnest desire of the editor, to give the readers of the "Public Spirit," an interesting, comprehensive and instructive woman's section, an arrangement has been made with a lady of wide experience along lines of Domestic Science, and who has been an extensive traveler, whereby weekly contributions will be made. Any questions desired to be answered may be sent to the "Women's Department," Public Spirit.

Our contributor prefers to be known only by the nom de plume, A Country Woman.

Dear Spirit Readers:

I anticipate a great deal of pleasure in sending you a weekly article, and hope with your cooperation to make this department a success. It is my intention to tell of recipes that have been successfully used, and styles that are strictly up-to-date, and will be glad to receive from my readers, any suggestions or questions they may have. I will include in my letter any topic that confronts the average house maker, trusting this page may be a help to many, I beg to remain your helpful friend.

A COUNTRY WOMAN.

LATEST STYLES IN DRESS

A Glance at Fall Fashions—Trimings, Materials and Shapes.

As the seasons come there is always an anxiety as to the best and most practical styles to be worn, and I will endeavor to give a few of the new dominant features for this winter's wear. The materials for dresses and suits are twed, zibeline, herring-bone, serge, rough cloth, ratine and corduroy. The skirts are shorter and more numerous for evening and afternoon wear are draped. The coats are longer than last summer models, and many have a large shawl collar, continuing almost to waist line with one of two large buttons. The coats are tight fitting around hips. The strictly tailored suit is not quite so popular this season, although there are many ladies who will wear nothing else. The new dresses have the high waisted effect and the long sleeve has returned to favor. This sleeve has some distinctive features. The shoulders are long, armholes large, and the sleeve is attached to the shoulder under a small satin cord. From elbow down the sleeve fits tightly, and when made of lace is formed from an entirely separate unit, as used in the kimono style. At the hands are daintily embroidered turn back cuffs, or one and one half inch frills, extending over hands. Trimmings are especially beautiful this season. Doll girdle, heavy black braids, wide and narrow, and velvets in black and brilliant colors take the lead. Black and white are still in first favor, although purple, pink and red are much seen. Hats are all shapes and sizes, large, low, broad-brimmed ones, with plumes, and tight fitting, small hats with high crowns enveloping the entire head are much in evidence.

TIMELY RECIPES

TRIED RECIPES.

The following recipes have been tried and are known to be reliable.

A COUNTRY WOMAN.

BRITISH POTATO SOUP.
English potato soup is both economical and savory. For it they boil marrow bones and strain off the stock. To this is added a plate of cut-up vegetables, consisting of the following mixture: Three onions, cut fine, some potatoes sliced thin and one large carrot, grated. Add seasoning as for any soup and simmer an hour or more. Strain and serve. Some add a stalk of celery and a bit of cooked lean ham to the original stock pot to give additional flavor.

CLAM BOUILLON.

Wash and scrub with a brush one half peck clams, changing water several times. Put in kettle with three cups cold water, cover tightly, and steam until shells are well opened. Strain liquor, cool and clear.

TO ROAST BEEF IN PAPER BAGS.

Paper bag cookery has been tried and found to work well. There are two important features in this new process, first be sure to butter the inside of bags, and second, to be very careful in removing bag from oven, not to break. The oven must be very hot, therefore the paper is liable to become charred. Such a utensil as a broad spatula or cake turner would be found effective. The roast is rolled, tied and cleaved into shape, seasoned with salt and pepper, turned in flour, and added to it a few beef trimmings, a small sprig of parsley, two tablespoons of water, and potatoes that had been cleaned and pared. The whole thing is placed in the hot oven and cooked without disturbance for forty-five minutes. You will find as a result a well browned roast, with gravy of gray, and much more tender than could have been procured from any other process that we have at present. The potatoes, cooked with it come out delicious, browned and mealy.

SPINACH.

Wash spinach through several waters until thoroughly clean. Cover with water and boil until tender, drain and mash through colander, add a little cream, add salt and pepper, and beat into the mashed spinach. Very good.

GRAPE FRUIT AND CELERY SALAD.
Cut medium-sized grape fruit in thirds lengthwise. Remove pulp and add to it an equal quantity of finely-cut celery. Refresh sections with mixture, make with mayonnaise dressing, and garnish with celery tips, and canned pineapples cut in strips.

GREEN PEPPER MANGONES.

With a sharp knife score a circle in top of the stems and of each pepper, about half an inch from the stem, cut deep enough to remove this piece with stem and discard all seeds. With a threaded needle fasten each piece with stem to its appropriate pepper in a jar and pour over salad "water" (two teaspoons of salt to a quart of water) to cover; set a weight above them to hold the peppers under the brine and let stand twenty-four hours. Chop a cabbage rather fine; onions, celery or green tomatoes, one or all, may be chopped with the cabbage. Season a quart of the chopped ingredients with one teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of grated horseradish, two teaspoonsful of mustard seed, one teaspoonful of celery seed and one teaspoonful of ground mustard. Fill each pepper with the chopped mixture, sew the cover in place and pack in an earthen jar; sprinkle on one or two tablespoons of mixed spices and pour on hot vinegar to cover completely.

COFFEE CREAMS.

Delicious "coffee creams" are made by heating up a pint of milk and adding thereto (it should be hot, but not boiling) the yolks of three eggs, stirred in very rapidly. When this has cooled, two ounces of sugar are added and enough strong coffee or coffee essence to flavor. Dissolve in a pint of boiling water three-quarters of an ounce of gelatin, stirring it, if necessary, over the fire. If it is strained into the custard, which should be still warm.

VANILLA CREAM.

Vanilla cream is delicate enough for a dinner luncheon or for Sunday dinner dessert course. Make a custard of three yolks and one white. Melt the gelatin in two tablespoons of water and strain into one custard. Dissolve in a pint of boiling water three-quarters of an ounce of gelatin, stirring it, if necessary, over the fire. If it is strained into the custard, which should be still warm.

LEMON MOLO.

For another dainty tidbit there is lemon molo. Put in a saucepan a pint of boiling water and the grated rind of two lemons, allowing them to simmer ten minutes. Strain the lemon juice (two lemons) and add it. Mix to a smooth paste two tablespoons of cornstarch, six cups of hot sugar with a little cold water, add the yolks of two eggs. On this pour the syrup to the pan and boil again for eight minutes. Pour into a wet mold to cool and serve cold with cream.

TIMELY HINTS FOR HALLOWEEN

The Last Night in October the Time for Mystic Fun and Frolic.

THE GHOST HUNT

Have a Ghost Hunt if you are planning a Halloween party. It's really lots of fun, and your guests will all want to come again next year. Have James Whitcomb Riley's famous poem, "If the goblins 'n' 'll give you, if you don't watch out" in large letters over the door where the guests enter.

Every one, of course, wears a false face and a domino or fancy dress. When they are all assembled, the lights are turned low and a guide in a black mask, or dressed as a witch, takes the party on a Ghost Hunt. Not a word may be spoken, not a giggle heard, no matter what the provocation. Every one must look straight ahead, or something dreadful will happen to him if he so much as turns his head from side to side.

The guide leads on through doors that open and close with a bang; goblins with hideously painted faces and holding stuffed clubs are stationed along the way to punish offenders. The party is led upstairs through dark rooms where open windows make the air cold; up into the attic, which is lighted only with burning alcohol and salt; then down and out into the yard; and if there is an outside cellar door, through this into the cold, damp cellar.

All along the route imitation "spooks" are met in the most unexpected places; grinning jack-o'-lantern heads with ghastly bodies peer out from dark corners; false faces with lights behind them, black cats, bats and big toy spiders hang from webs made of string.

The guests are let to stumble over small objects left in their path, in pans and things that make as much noise as possible. The Chief Ghost is seated behind a canvas screen in the cellar, and around him are groups of small goblins. The ghost hunters sit on the floor in silence for a few minutes; then the Chief Ghost names a guest and gives a list of his pet sins and weaknesses. When this is done the Chief asks the guest if he has any defense to make, and if he can satisfactorily clear himself. He is made to solemnly promise to tell a ghost story when supper is being served.

If, however, he cannot offer any good excuse for his sins, the Chief names his punishment. This is made as ridiculous as possible. The guests back from the Chief Ghost's camp, made as funny as possible. You can plan all sorts of tricks to play on the hunters.

The "hunt" ends with a daintily served supper, with appropriate table decorations, food and ice, not forgetting plenty of apples, nuts, candy and fruit. Flavors and pretty souvents are given each guest before the evening's entertainment is brought to a close.

NEIGHBORLY HALLOWEEN PARTY.

Three girls can arrange a very attractive Halloween party at which each can have a share in the entertaining and add mystery to the evening by taking the guests in turn to each girl's house. The guests are invited to dress in sheets and pillow cases, with white masks, so that they will resemble ghosts, and to assemble at the home of one of the girls at a certain hour. When they enter the door they are greeted by their ghost hosts, whose gloved hands is extended fit welcome. All of the girls, and most of the boys, will be unable to suppress a shriek when they grasp a cold clammy kid glove that has been stuffed with saw-dust and soaked in iced water.

None of the ghosts are supposed to eat, and no much merriment is had in trying to find out the identity of each other.

Games are played—guessing contests or something on that order where prizes can be given—and when the lights are brought on, cocoa warts and salted nuts are served.

Each boy then chooses a partner, and the party then goes to the second Partners are again changed and the home of the third girl is visited. This home is decorated with jack-o'-lanterns and autumn leaves. Each guest is given a plate holding an apple with the center scooped out to hold a lighted candle, over which marshmallows are toasted.

One girl dressed as an old witch sits in a corner to represent a guest's tent and tell fortunes. Prophecies are hidden in crepe-paper pumpkins and are given as souvenirs of the evening. Masks are removed and the party breaks up amid songs and general merrymaking.

WEEK'S HOLIDAY FOR PUPILS

Schools Will Close During Conference of Montgomery County Teachers.

Superintendent Landis, of the Montgomery County schools, announces that the 57th annual session of the Montgomery County Institute for Teachers will convene at Norristown on Monday, October 29, and will continue during the week. Prominent speakers who will attend are Professor S. R. Shear, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Public Schools, and Miss Nan L. Mildren, supervisor of Caroline and Talbot county schools.

Nearly 700 teachers are interested and thousands of students will have an entire week's release from study.

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Granville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Chamber of Life and suffering from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of money to me, as it restored my health and strength. I my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."

Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter.—Miss CRIS, BARCLAY, R.F.D., Granville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's life has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroids, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write for her advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

THE PUBLIC SPIRIT this WEEK will be read by close to 20,000 people.
Its issue of 4225 copies is sent to that many homes, in this section, mostly in the "lower end" of Montgomery county, but also reaching out into Bucks and the northern suburbs of Philadelphia.

That is going some, when you consider that its home town of Hathboro has a population of less than 1000, men, women and children, and is considered by some of its faster growing neighbors as a bit slow.

The Spirit leads all of its contemporary country weeklies in circulation and influence, and is growing so fast that new and improved machinery is needed to print it, to enable it to get out on time.

An order has been given to the Cotrell press makers, one of the leading concerns in this line, for one of their latest improved models, capable of a speed about double that of the press it will displace. When this new machinery is installed the Spirit plant will be equipped to handle a circulation many times as large as we now have, but we hope, by your help, kind readers, to reach its maximum capacity in a few more years.

After the new machine is installed and is running smoothly, improvements will be made in the paper, that will no doubt be appreciated by its thousands of patrons. We mean you shall have the best we can give you, kind friends of the Public Spirit family, and we hope to continue to merit your good wishes and support.

A CORRESPONDENT IN ANOTHER part of this issue, points out the importance of keeping tried and good men in local school boards, where their experience will prove valuable.
The Editor agrees with that proposition. In every district where first-class educators are asking for votes,
the one who has served satisfactorily in a school board should have the preference, without regard to politics.
But, if the candidate has nothing but experience, as against admitted greater fitness and ability of an opponent,
then a change can be made with advantage to the district.

The new law legislated out of office
many excellent school directors, who directed, also a lot of poor sticks of the "me to variety." Let us hope that the good men are returned to their important positions and that the others have successors of a better type.

THE POLITICAL POT IS BOILING merit and the campaign is warming up as election day approaches.
The cry of the Johnson managers is "vote the straight ticket and save the grand old party."
The Republican party is in no danger, but the Spirit hopes that the gang buses and their high handed methods are facing a disciplining at the hands of independent voters that they will not forget in a hurry.

It is a ridiculous assumption to say that it is necessary to blindly follow Boss Johnson, in order to be a "good Republican." The opposite is the truth.

SOME ENTHUSIASTS SEEM to think that days when big base ball games are to be played should be called "Sports Days."
Sounds foolish now, but who knows what we will come to.

has been sent to change hands on the result of the fall races.

The sale of personal property of Benjamin Worthington, held at Lady Washington hotel on Wednesday, was well attended, and good prices were realized. H. G. Ely had in charge.

The boys were active in gala attire on Monday evening last, when Huntingdon Valley Fire Company, No. 1, was assisted in displaying their new apparatus at the annual picnic of the Grove fire companies and fire and drum corps, also Orange Home life and drum corps of Hathboro. Ever-house along the line of parade was well illuminated and many houses decorated. Mrs. Harry Young of Spread Eagle hotel, presented the company with a beautiful 4x8 silk flag, handsomely trimmed with gold fringe.

Lafayette LaRue has had concrete walks put down on his house.
Miss Ellen LaRue is having a new cement walk put down on his premises.
Mr. F. F. Fetter is spending the week at Warren, Pa., as a delegate to Synod.

Miss Ellen Barlow of Chester Hill has been visiting Mrs. T. F. Marple.
F. F. Wilkins is adding a room over the kitchen to his house occupied by Miss Pusey.

Miss Ellen Marple has taken a company of Philadelphia.
The Bellows family is preparing to go into the city for the winter. Dr.
Bellows has long been an invalid.

The new Catholic parish being started at Fox Chase takes in the Catholics of Bethayres and vicinity, who formerly belonged to Bustleton and Jenkintown.

Miss Irene Shutt entertained to dinner on Sunday evening, Misses Margaretta Kofod, Ellen and Mary Marple, Venus and Helen Shutt, Misses William Lukens, William VanHorn, Otto Kofod, Charles Jarrett and Walter Shutt.

Thieves gained an entrance into F.
M. Fetter's house Monday night of last week and also broke into Philmont station. They did not procure much as they were frightened off by Mr. Fetter coming down stairs with a light, preparing to go to the city. They took an overcoat, a suit coat and part of a roast of beef.

Fred Price and William Heyse were badly burned by the breaking of an ammonia pipe in the Doylestown ice plant.

The total amount collected for the relief of the "Aesthetic" school by the daughters of A. L. Saxton, North Wales, was $47.30.

Thirteen persons have just been received into full membership at the Sanctuary Methodist church, North Wales.

An injunction is talked about in Doylestown to restrain Dr. Harry Lebman from erecting a building for his dental rooms near the Court House Park.

Chicken thieves visited the barn of B. F. Schlime, at North Wales, and stole a dozen chickens. The tracks of the automobile were discovered in the barnyard.

The Editor agrees with that proposition. In every district where first-class educators are asking for votes,
the one who has served satisfactorily
in a school board should have the preference, without regard to politics.
But, if the candidate has nothing but experience, as against admitted greater fitness and ability of an opponent,
then a change can be made with advantage to the district.

The new law legislated out of office
many excellent school directors, who directed, also a lot of poor sticks of
the "me to variety." Let us hope that the good men are returned to their important positions and that the others
have successors of a better type.

POLITICS TO DATE

NORRISTOWN LETTER

The Political Fight as Seen at the County Seat.

Norristown, Pa., October 27, 1911
The latest bit of political gossip getting the rounds is the allegation of a hint that the Republicans are so anxious about their chances for District Atorney, Conrad S. Shelve, as to be willing to entertain propositions for a trade, presumably on Judge Shelve's part, which will not down, has caused the most pronounced stir yet, this year, in local politics, and warm advocates of the judge are wearing out their vocal chords to learn whether there is anything in it.

The hired scribe of the Republican county machine, whose effusions are appearing in the "Evening Post," has written and in a gang organ here, does not work over time. He writes one letter each week, makes copies of that and supplies the subsidized sheets therewith. As for facts, he does not get them better than he gets the contrary, finds fiction and misrepresentation more to his liking. The distortion, indeed, is as flagrant as the truth.
For instance, that it will doubtless defeat the very object which it is hoped to accomplish. It is reported to say the least, that newspaper publishers are willing to lend their aid in a trade which is equally cheap and vulgar attempts to hoodwink the people.

Rumors are afloat to the effect that J. Ambler Williams, who, by virtue of machine favoritism to Conrad S.
Shelve, lost to the latter, the Republican District Attorney nomination, may come out in a statement before election, that he "will support the whole Republican ticket." One may depend on it, too, that if the gang machine can possibly "work the racket" such developments will come. But the move will not do Shelve any good.
The men who voted for Williams and against T. Davidson, the machine's choice for Recorder of Deeds (at the primaries are standing on principle, and if Williams is elected will not forgive the offense committed by the machine crowd against him, the only thing he will accomplish, will be to show the respect of his one-time supporters, without adding Shelve in the least.

That the Republicans will try despairately to save the County Commissionerships (two, or a majority of the Board) is a foregone conclusion. And they will not be successful seems pretty certain. Propositions for a trade on this score are alleged to be stokers, who add that they turned the same down, of course.

Keynote and Democratic speakers, in their visits to the several towns and villages in the last two weeks, met with a warm reception everywhere. Not only were the audiences large, but there were evidences of interest and enthusiasm whose significance can not be doubted. Especially was this true in the lower end, where the independent vote is believed to be heavy. In Royersford, also, a very large number of the voters are known straight Republicans, the fusionists were welcomed and their sentiments cheered.

A vigorous campaign will be kept up until election day, and there is not a man in the party of success who does not believe that a decisive victory awaits the fusion cause on November 7, next.

VIGILANT.

SHIVE PULLING DOWN TICKET.
That the Republican nomination for District Attorney of Norristown is a bugbear of far-reaching potentially is now admitted by individuals who have been in the machine itself. It is known that the matter is daily brought up in high places, and that ways and means are suggested to "get around" the difficulties which the Shive candidacy has caused.

A Republican "Lieutenant," a few days ago, at Norristown, openly stated to a party of friends that "if it were not for this District Attorney business is giving us pecks of trouble-that is a regular political pos-sion." Further, he declared that the "bosses" were advised long in advance of the time for "expecting" aspirants for office any kind of a "pull" would be well to encourage Conrad S. Shive again. Such counsel was received with plain displeasure and cast aside as instantly. The "Lieutenant" who gave it was told that "Con. Shive has done a great deal of work for the organization and deserves to be candidate for District Attorney." In addition, he was reminded that "Shive will prove as strong as the average Republican nominee."

"That may be your idea," returned the remonstrator, "but you do not voice the opinion of a large number of Republican voters. I have been presented to a number of them, and they over the county, and everywhere I have been entreated to do what I can to stop Shive out of the campaign."
The man who said this was a Beaun fight with its disastrous consequences of four years ago, and has thrown up to me, and I am confounded for it. I was told, too, that Shive's administration, when he was District Attorney, was not regarded by thousands as meeting the requirements, and that there were numerous other objections lodged against him."

Decided exceptions were taken by other representative Republicans, too.
These lines, it is understood, have been the same time-long before aspirants for primary nominations began to appear; yet notwithstanding this was as to the state of opinion on the part of a large proportion of Republican voters, the machine would have none of it.

Thus, it would seem, according to Republican themselves and to the fact that Conrad S. Shive is the candidate for District Attorney to-day, that the machine is not at all ready to rule by the party constituency, but by the grace of a handful of men who style themselves the average Republican. The situation is being so strongly emphasized that there is actually talk of meeting within the line of "regulars" for, while all of these are partisans, they do not care to be set before the people as a pack of numskulls or as deliberately flying in the face of popular sentiment.

DR. CHARLES SELTZER AGAIN BUYS THE GOENTNER FARM.

The farm belonging to the estate of Dr. Charles T. Goentner, deceased, was sold at public sale by the executors, Mrs. Annie C. Goentner and Mrs. Elmer M. G. Stradling, on Saturday last to Dr. Charles M. Seltzer for $14,700, or about $140 per acre. J. N. Watson was the auctioneer. The place was offered first in four tracts but brought more money as a whole, containing about 106 acres according to a recent survey. Dr. Seltzer, the purchaser, bought the place last spring when it was sold at public sale, for $12,000. The sale, at that time, was upset afterwards in court upon a technicality. Dr. Seltzer has comprehensive plans for the improvement of the property and the sale of a portion of it in building lots of an acre or more. The property is mostly within the limits of the borough and fronts upon the County Line, Jacksonville road, and has an outlet to York street near the monument.

THE NEIGHBORS

Topics Considered by the Local Women's Club—Good Work Young Folks May Do.

"The Neighbors," the women's club, of Hatboro, met at the usual place on Saturday, October 21st. After some routine business the two delegates to the State federation at Erie, Elizabeth R. Wood and Marnie E. Goentner, gave a most interesting and instructive report of the proceedings. On account of lack of time Miss Goentner's report will be continued at the next business meeting, November 11th.

Mrs. Eliza B. Kirkbride gave a talk on "The League of Good Citizenship." She showed how our young people can be interested in the condition of the streets and the general appearance and sanitary state of their towns and that much good can be done by introducing such leagues into the public schools, only about twenty minutes being devoted to the matter each month. The women's club can assist by supplying the necessary materials and placing them at intervals along the streets, and also sending representatives to the meetings whose duty will be to encourage the young people by talks on the subject of government not only of their own town but of themselves. Some of the rules of the league are "never throw away paper in the streets, never throw banana or fruit skins in the streets, never deface public property." At the request of the club, literature relating to the league will be sent to the corresponding secretary. The subject was discussed by Mrs. Hannah Carl in an able manner.

Miss Anna Logan played a piano solo and Miss Dager, of Ambler, gave two vocal solos. A vote of thanks was tendered to the visitors for their entertainment. No definite engagement has been made with Mrs. Scott, the cooking expert, who has expressed her willingness to give a lecture before the women's club.

A dancing class will be formed this Friday evening in Wilgus hall. Edward Groff, of Teiford, Pa., spent Sunday with his parents here.

Miss E. W. Christopher has gone to Germantown to spend a season. Miss Perkins, of Beverly, N. J., spent the week-end with Miss Anna Logan.

Miss Elmer Morgan has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Carrell, near Jenkins, for two weeks.

Everybody was glad to see the sunshine again on Monday after nearly a week of rain. Miss Eva Quirk and brother, Barton, entertained a house party on Saturday and Sunday.

The P. O. S. of A. camp will confer the degree work upon some candidates this Friday evening.

O. J. Rodrock has been doing jury duty in the United States Court in Philadelphia for two weeks. Next week the borough school teachers will be at Norristown attending institute and the youngsters will have a holiday.

You often need some heat in early Fall, when you have not yet started the furnace.

In whatever part of the house you want it, you can get it best and quickest with a Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater.

The Perfection is the most reliable heater on the market, and you can move it wherever you please.

Start it in bathroom or bedroom, and you sleep in comfort on the coldest morning. Take it to the dining-room, and early breakfast becomes a pleasant, cozy meal. A touch of a match at dusk, and all is snug for the evening.

The Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater is beautiful, efficient, and pleasant anywhere. Drums of plain steel or enameled in blue; nickel trimmings. A special automatic device makes smoking impossible. Burner body cannot become clogged. All parts easily cleaned. Dances top. Cool handle.

Dancers everywhere or write for descriptive circular to any company.

SWINDLING BY BOGUS ORDERS.

Harry J. Morris, a Hatboro merchant, told a Spirit, representative, about a new swindling scheme of which he was recently a victim to a small extent. Mr. Morris desired to have publicity given to the trick in order that other merchants may be on their guard, he said.

"Some time ago a man dressed like a farm hand, in a shirt sleeves, came into my store and presented an order signed John Myers, asking to have an axe and a saw charged to his account. Myers is a Hortham farmer and I let the man have the articles without question. Sometime later I saw Mr. Myers and asked him how the articles suited. He expressed surprise and said he had not ordered any hardware nor received any. He pronounced the order a forgery. I had a warrant issued, but have never seen the stranger since. I learned, however, that on the day he took the axe and saw from my store, he had done the same thing at Clemens Keighly's store at Willow Grove and on an order exactly like he gave me. The man had therefore succeeded in getting two new axes and saws with a few building shingles. He decamped from the neighborhood. I described the man to Mr. Myers and he said he had never seen him. The swindler seemed to be a German and told a straight story, but none of us have been able to locate him since he left this section. Other merchants should look out for bogus orders."

Miss Josephine Yerkes on Wednesday passed her 80th birthday anniversary, and her health is remarkably good.

The monthly meeting of the Enterprise Fire Company held on Monday evening was largely attended. All business pertaining to the recent parade was cleaned up and it was decided to accept the offer of the Warminster Driving Association for a benefit race at an early date, other companies will be the Willow Grove and Abington. One new member was also received.

Years of Suffering

Cataract and Blood Disease—Doctors Failed to Cure.

Miss Mabel F. Dawkins, 1214 Lafayette St., Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "For three years I was troubled with cataract and blood disease. I tried several doctors and a dozen different remedies, but none of them did me any good. A friend told me of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took two bottles of this medicine and was as well and strong as ever. I feel like a different person and recommend Hood's to any one suffering from cataract."

In regard to all these changes the existing school boards have been especially drilled and instructed both by our County Superintendent and State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Under the circumstances any district that contemplates "turning down" out of a board of faithful and experienced directors would be guilty of the vain ambition of those who are anxious to drive some better qualified man out of position should think twice and go slow.

The district that hazards the welfare of its schools by entrusting them to the management of a board of directors "green" to the business and unfamiliar to the details of school work, will certainly stand up against a hard proposition and place them in a very awkward and embarrassing position. Mistakes and complications will inevitably occur and the schools be made to suffer thereby. To quote Lincoln's homely maxim this is emphatically "a poor time to swap horses in the middle of the stream."

Members of a board of education should be men of intelligence and broadminded, progressive ideas. Men who are unselfish and public spirited; who have the interests and welfare of the community at heart. Men who are not afraid to spare a little time and effort from private interests for the public good. Men who are more interested in what they can put into the movement for better and more efficient schools than they are for what personal benefit they can gain by holding an office.

Let us have in our school boards men of families, men in the prime of life, who have a vision of the future, who are up to date in their knowledge of the times, men with the best years of their lives and ambitions before them, who will go forward and not backward.

Let us place school affairs above and beyond the petty strife of party politics. Home and school must be brought into the most intimate and sympathetic relations and patrons and taxpayers in each district should rally to the support of directors who have proved themselves capable, unselfish and worthy of their stewardship.

Philadelphia Theatres.

LYRIC THEATRE.

The Lyric Theatre is now the scene of action for the famous Winter Garden Company, direct and intact from the famous Winter Garden of New York.

The offering is "The Musical Comedy of the Broadway season," the sensational success of the Broadway season and looked upon as one of the most brilliant entertainments of the kind ever put together. As seen in Philadelphia, "The Musical Comedy of 1911" has the same company and production which made it so famous on Broadway.

The production is said to be one of the most handsome and lavish ever seen on or off Broadway. The costume investiture is exceedingly handsome and all the newest and latest styles and creations will be shown.

The company is led by a host of well known entertainers, including Harry Fisher and his clowning, so well remembered by the Philadelphia public. Al Johnson, king of all minstrel men; Mlle. Dazie, the prima danseuse who was lauded for her work both in Europe and America; Barney Barnard and his successful Hebrew sketch of "Mr. Cohn of Bridgeport"; Yvette, the most remarkable playing; Tempest and Sunshine, the vaudeville team which created such an uproar of approval last year; the Hester Sisters and their wonderful Russian dancing; beautiful Mildred Elaine and her electric voice; and other stars as Billie Taylor, Arthur Cunningham, Melissa Ten Eyck, Harold Rose, Milberry Ryder, Arthur Richter, Lew Quinn and Roy Dodge.

The story, such as it is, tells of the adventures of a party of American tourists in Paris. These give opportunity for the introduction of many funny scenes and some novel specialties.

The book is the work of Edgar Smith, while Edward Madden is responsible for the lyrics. The music is written by Frank Tourner and Jerome D. Kern. Billie Taylor wrote the numbers sung by Miss Mayhew.

The entire production is staged by William J. Wilson, general stage director of the New York Hippodrome.

The scenery was built and designed by Arthur Voelglin, who creates the scenic marvels at the New York Hippodrome. Not only the scenery but the costumes have been spared in making "The Musical Comedy of 1911" one of the most attractive combinations on the road in every way.

There will be the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees at the Lyric Theatre. Tickets are on sale at the Winter Garden Company.

ADELPHI THEATRE.

"A royal road to fame and fortune stretches clear before the man or woman, young or old, who has ambition to write plays and the ability to follow the stage." So says Margaret Mayo, one of the most successful woman playwrights, whose latest contribution to the stage, "Baby Mine," is on exhibition at the Adelphi.

This new play is quite opposite to the generally accepted idea of a woman's play. It is a play for the correct one. It is the easiest thing in the world to have a woman's play, and if there is merit in it, to have a production made. The need of the hour in the theatrical world is plays and more plays, and the manager stands ready to read or have read any manuscript that bears upon its face the stamp of liveliness." Miss Mayo's own experience has been peculiarly happy. She is a actress, rather than a playwright, with an innate desire for home life and quiet evenings and friends and all the joys of existence that the actor must forego. She is a Canadian Canadian, and with that education and an intimate knowledge of stagecraft, she first undertook a dramatization of "The Playhouse," which, followed, and then came a dramatization of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's novel, "The Ancestral Footstep," a translation of "Divorçons," in which George George at last came into her own, and then came a play, which bore its own large fortune, as one of the reasons Miss Mayo has as the basis of her contention that the dramatist's play is the easiest thing in the world to have a production made.

The polishing process took longer, of course, but the inspiration came one morning at breakfast when Miss Mayo's mother read the news story under a Chicago date line, which furnished the dramatist with the plot for her play. By noon of that day the play was written and there was no cessation until the play was done.

"I never write unless I feel in the mood," Miss Mayo says, "and I feel that I do all my work in the morning when I am feeling well and strong. At night when my vitality is low, I am sure to suffer."

So I have always schooled myself to work between breakfast and luncheon and make the afternoon and evening for reading, recuperation or entertainment."

Closely the authoress of "Baby Mine" has followed the many reams of life. Closely Miss Mayo has followed the many reams of life and legitimate happenings to get the amusing story of her play, and her intention to create fun, mirth and laughter has succeeded beyond her most sanguine hopes. The master directing hand has made the comedy the blessing of the audience and the cry of fun and laughter is widespread. All this is evidence that the comedy is the only lines that appeal to one class of people alone, but there is that touch, that trill to it, that it invokes the interest and attention of all human kind. The genuine fun that is contagious, the screaming hilarity which follows every effort of the actor, produces the healthiest kind of pleasure and amusement. Miss Margaret Mayo has furnished the evidence that she knows the world and what the public likes for joyous entertainment.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

TIMELY TOPICS OF PLANTS AND PESTS DISCUSSED WEEKLY

By H. A. Surface, State Zoologist of Pa.

DUST SPRAYING.

A prominent fruit grower of the West writes to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Economic Zoologist, asking him of the comparative effectiveness of dust spraying and of liquid-spraying. To this query the Professor replied as follows:

"I have tried dust spraying, and can say that it has been relegated to the junk pile, along with other passing fads. It has been found that it requires about six applications of a dust spray to be as effective as two of the liquid spray. Also, it is impossible to do as thorough a job by dusting or dust spraying as can be done with the right kind of apparatus and careful workmen with the liquid spray. Undoubtedly the spraying of fruit is to be chiefly with the lime-sulfur solution, when trees are dormant and with extra-dilute lime-sulfur solution and arsenate of lead when they are in foliage or after the blossoms have dropped.

COTTON WORM MOTH.

Within the last few weeks many localities in this State were visited by multitudes of an exotic insect from the South. This visitation elicited many inquiries from observant persons as to the identity of this insect who desired to know if this was a new pest about to attack the fruits and crops of this State. Numerous specimens have been sent to Prof. H. A. Surface, Economic Zoologist of the Department of Agriculture, asking that these be identified, and their life history and habits given. The Professor's reply to a correspondent from Reynoldsville will no doubt be instructive to such other persons who have seen these moths, but did not know what they are:

"I thank you for your interest in sending us the two moths or millers, as they are commonly called, and also for your very interesting letter concerning their appearance in Reynoldsville on the night of September 28th. This insect is the adult or moth form of the Cotton worm, the scientific name being Alabama argillacea. The worm or larva feeds on the cotton plant, but it is not the dreaded Cotton boll weevil. It is, of course, exceedingly destructive. However, it is not known that it attacks any plant in this State, and consequently we have nothing to fear of this remarkable infestation of the moth in its winged form. This was one of those remarkable migrations of insects which sometimes occur. Perhaps it was due to continuous favorable winds from the South and Southwest. At any rate it will be of great benefit to the cotton growers to get rid of some of the multiple millions of Cotton moths, and will do us no great harm, unless beyond that which I have already experienced.

In my peach orchards I found these moths puncturing ripe peaches and sucking out the juices for an area of one inch in diameter under the hole, and were staining the outside of the fruit considerably where they perched around the opening. Of course, it was only the late peaches like the Late Crawford, Smock and Salway that were thus injured.

I had had reports of these insects from all over Pennsylvania, having received them from most of the counties of the State; but yours is the first description of their occurrence which I have yet received. It is remarkable how numerous they were. One can not estimate the multiple millions of them. On an average of about once in six or seven years there is more or less of a northward flight of these insects, but at best these migrations are at irregular intervals, and result in no damage to our property."

RENEWING A PEACH ORCHARD.

A leading fruit grower in Allegheny county has requested from Prof. H. A. Surface, Economic Zoologist of the State Department of Agriculture, to outline a course of treatment for his peach orchard, consisting of old trees that have borne five or six heavy crops in succession. There are a great many peach trees of this description in the State, and the reply of Professor Surface to this correspondent may be found to contain valuable hints for the treatment of all such trees, also on the selection of varieties. The reply follows:

"I really would not recommend much cultivating during the open winter, for the reason that it is liable to result in the washing away of soil fertility that is thus loosened up. I much prefer to sow rye as a cover crop now immediately, doing only that cultivation that is necessary for sowing the rye, and early next spring turn it down and keep the orchard cultivated with a spike harrow until midsummer or shortly after, and then sow crimson clover, always keeping a cover crop on the ground during the winter time, instead of loosening it up by cultivation. If I had my choice now between cultivating an orchard at this time of year, or letting the ground remain without a cover crop, I should certainly prefer the latter, but I should start the cultivation just as early as it is dry enough in the spring. The pruning of the trees can commence any time after the leaves are off, and continue through the winter and spring.

I believe your experience is that of every peach grower to the effect that certain varieties are better adapted to your region than others, but each one must work it out for himself, a grower near me finds Charr's Choice one of his best, and Reese's Favorite also productive, while in your case I note that this is not the case. Elberta, is, of course, always a standard. If I were you I should wish to plant for a fairly close succession of varieties. The first that I would recommend for you would be the Carman. Closely following this is the Belle of Georgia, and immediately after this is the Champion, followed by the Mountain Rose, and then the Elberta, Old Mizer, Late Crawford and Beer's Smock or Gary Holdon, Fox's Seedling, Iron Mountain, Salway and Blythe making a good succession. Wonderful is a good late peach, which might take the place of Smock or Crawford to advantage in your region.

FARM NOTES.

Commence feeding the new corn crop by very slow degrees.

Plan your farm to reduce the necessity of buying additional feed to the lowest point.

Moth balls in nests and placed about the poultry house are a prevention to lice and mites.

The long hair strap in the stall has been the cause of permanent injury to many animals.

To squelch the bacteria and prevent it from souring the milk it must be cooled immediately after milking.

It is a good plan to soak shelled corn for the hogs and if it is ground before it is soaked so much the better.

Do not let any weed go to seed in the orchard or garden. It's easier to kill the one plant than the hundred coming from it next year.

In marketing fruits and vegetables see that they are put up in clean, neat and well-graded packages. They will sell quicker and at a better price.

There is a steady decline in the number of sheep kept in this country, and yet owners of small flocks find them profitable where dogs can be kept within due bounds.

Keep all windfall apples and plums off the ground. They often have dropped because they are diseased or have insects in them. Feed to the pigs or burn.

THE NOVEMBER CENTURY.

That the November Century begins that magazine's eighty-third volume gives the number special interest, even aside from its widely varied list of good things.

Perhaps first in interest in the number's offerings is a one-act play by the late Sir William G. Gilbert. There is a certain Dickens quality. It is called "The Hooligan," and there are discussions by Reginald Birch. Another popular writer represented in the number is the author of "The Brink Highway," Jeffery Farnol, who contributes a romantic short story, "The Journey's End."

Henry T. Finck, an authority on food and cookery, has the first of three important and suggestive articles on "Gastronomic America."

Other notable features of the number include an account of the nineteenth century color prints and English society by Royal Cortissoz; a narrative of unique personal experiences in the Andes by Charles Johnson Post, the first of a series of unusual travel papers; two articles on Lafayette, and a timely and significant discussion, "The Western Student as Seen by His Instructors," by Prof. William Stearns Davis, of the University of Minnesota.

Joseph A. Ruos, of Doylestown, was on Tuesday discharged by the United States Court as a voluntary bankrupt.

Rheumatic Pains quickly relieved

Sloan's Liniment is good for pain of any sort. It penetrates, without rubbing, through the muscular tissue right to the bone—relieves the congestion and gives permanent as well as temporary relief.

Here's Proof.
A. W. Lay of Lafayette, Ala., writes:—"I had rheumatism for five years. I tried doctors and several different remedies but they did not help me. I obtained a bottle of Sloan's Liniment which did me so much good that I would not do without it for anything."

THOMAS L. RICE of Easton, Pa., writes:—"I have used Sloan's Liniment and find it first-class for rheumatic pains."

Mr. G. G. Jones of Baldwin, L.I., writes:—"I have found Sloan's Liniment per excellence. I have used it for broken sinews above the knee caused by a fall. My great satisfaction. I was able to resume my duties in less than three weeks after the accident."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is an excellent remedy for sprains, bruises, sore throat, asthma.

No rubbing necessary—you can apply with a brush.

OBITUARY

GEORGE W. WORTH.

George W. Worth, of Prospectville, a well-known resident of Hortham township for more than half a century, died Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the Chestnut Hill Hospital, following an operation Friday afternoon for appendicitis.

The deceased was born in Germany and with seven sisters and their parents came to America 58 years ago. He settled in Hortham township and about 40 years ago removed to Prospectville, where for many years he carried on blacksmithing.

About 50 years ago he married Arabella Dewler, daughter of Henry Dewler, of Hortham. Eight children were born of whom the following survive: Henry M., of Davis Grove; William D., and Frank W., of Prospectville, and Flora, wife of Abram Markley, of Philadelphia. 16 years ago Mr. Worth married Mary C. Heller, of Philadelphia, as his second wife. She died two years ago.

The deceased was a prominent man in his township, for many years being Justice of the Peace and was a nominee for re-election at the time of his death. He was treasurer of the Prospectville and Lewisville Turnpike Road Company, and was also a member of Fort Washington Masonic lodge. He was in the 73d year of his age.

The funeral was held from his late residence at Prospectville on Tuesday afternoon at 10 o'clock. Services were conducted in Upper Merion funeral church at 3, and interment was made in Rose Hill cemetery.

MRS. ELIZABETH R. COOLIDGE.

Mrs. Elizabeth Boren Coolidge, who distinctly remembered the Marquis of Lafayette's second visit to Philadelphia and who was a personal friend of Stephen Girard, died last Sunday at her home in Willow Grove, following a brief illness.

Mrs. Coolidge, who was ninety-six years old, had been apparently in the best of health until Tuesday when she caught cold. This developed into pneumonia and owing to her great age she sank rapidly until death came.

The funeral was held Wednesday from the apartment of her son, George E. Coolidge, at 1734 N. 15th street, Philadelphia. The services were conducted by Rev. Charles Grant Hopper, pastor of the West Park Presbyterian church. Interment was made in Woodlawn cemetery.

JAMES BOYD SYLVESTER.

On Saturday last, James Boyd, son of William H. and Theresa S. Sylvester, died. The funeral services were held on Tuesday from his parents' residence, East Willow Grove avenue, east of Stenton avenue. The interment was private at Westminster cemetery.

BERTHA M. MACLAUGHLIN.

Bertha M., wife of Wesley A. MacLaughlin, of Flourtown, died October 19, in her fifty year, and she left a daughter of Thomas and Sarah Hussey, of Philadelphia. Besides her parents and a sister, Mrs. MacLaughlin leaves a husband and a two-weeks' old son. The funeral took place from her late home, Bethlehem place, Flourtown, on Monday afternoon. Interment being made in the Greenwood C. of P. cemetery.

CHERRY ANN LEE.

On Monday, Cherry Ann, widow of R. Lloyd Lee, died. The funeral services were held on Wednesday from the residence of her son-in-law, E. B. Archambault, Bristleton. The interment was private.

HUGH KELLY.

Hugh Kelly, one of the best known residents of Warrington, died on Thursday morning at his home, aged 85 years.

Mr. Kelly was born in Ireland, but for the last thirty years he was a farmer in Warrington township, where he was highly respected.

He is survived by three children: Robert P. Kelly, of Warrington; John Edwards, of Warrington; and Mrs. Linford Carr, of Wyndham.

JESSE SELSER.

Jesse Selser, who was in his ninety-fourth year, died on Wednesday evening at his home at Warrington after being ill for a long time.

Until he became too old Mr. Selser followed farming and had resided in Warrington township nearly all of his life. He was a veteran of the Civil War and one of the oldest Old Patriots in the state.

The deceased is survived by a son, Isaac, of Doylestown, and a daughter, Miss Belle Selser, of Warrington, and a sister, Margaret, who lives at Hartsville.

CARRELL-HOBENACK.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hobenack, in Wyndham, when their daughter, Sarah May, was united in marriage to Harry Marion Carrell, son of Frank Carrell. The ceremony was performed by Elder B. H. Durand, Southampton Baptist church, in the presence of an assembled company of relatives and friends. The house was tastefully decorated with flowers, plants and autumn verdure. Anna Hobenack, sister of the bride, rendered Lobeng's wedding march. Alice and Ethel Hobenack acted as ribbon bearers. Bertha Hobenack, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. Walter Carrell, brother of the groom, was best man. George and Frank Hobenack, were witnesses. The costume of the bride was white crepe metre. The bridesmaid's gown was blue china silk.

After receiving the good wishes of the assembled company, the happy couple departed on their wedding journey amid a shower of rice, etc.

Glenside and Edge Hill

Oliver Braden has returned to his home on Menlo avenue after a trip through the west.

The Needlework Guild held a sale of new goods last Saturday afternoon in Ritter's office.

Dick Harlow, star tackle on State college football team, spent Sunday with his parents at North Glenside.

H. Roy Stacks and family have moved from Menlo avenue to Caranauqua, Pa., where Mr. Stacks is engaged in business.

Mr. King and family, of Camden, N. J., have been spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ella King, of Huber street.

John Brown, who recently had his face burned by powder in the sham battle, is about the same and shows no bad effects of the burns.

Quite a number of our prominent citizens took in the ball game between the Athletics and the Phillies on Tuesday afternoon of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilson, of Mt. Carmel, Pa., celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary on Saturday evening. About 75 guests were present.

The Teachers' Association of Carmel School will hold a regular meeting in the primary room of the building on Friday evening, November 3.

Politics will be a warm issue now that the interest in the ball games is over. The workers will have to pitch in as there will be a great fight on for honors.

Brick crossings have been placed at Glenside avenue and Willow Grove pike, this week. They have been needed at that point for some time and will be much appreciated.

A meeting of the executive committee of Carmel Sunday school was held on Wednesday evening, at the church, to formulate rally day plans, for Sunday, November 12.

The C. E. Society of Carmel church will hold a business and social meeting in the primary room on Monday evening, October 30th. This will be known as a Ladies' social.

The Campbell property corner of Weldon and Wharton avenues, has been rented by Walter H. Wilson to H. C. O'Connell of Philadelphia, who will take possession about November 1st.

The primary department of Carmel Sunday school will hold a "Mother Goose Cantata," this Friday evening in the primary school room of the church. So see the little folks perform.

On Tuesday evening, November 7th, the Montgomery County Sunday School Association will meet in Carmel Sunday school at which time an address on the work will be made by the Hon. John Wanamaker.

Most any day now one can hear the time of rug and beater coming to gether which denotes that housecleaning time is here. There is lots of housecleaning here, as Glenside is a clean town. The people take pride in interiors as well as exteriors.

At the public sale of the real estate of the estate of William H. Vandegrift, of Harrison, held on Wednesday afternoon, the property was knocked down to the highest bidder, Edward Pasala, whose property adjoins the Vandegrift property on the westerly side. With some improvements this will make a nice home as the location is ideal. The sale of household goods brought out a good many people, who bid quite lively. As a whole the different articles brought good prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willard and family were visitors at John Engle's on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lightkeap spent Sunday in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. George Willard spent some time with his son at Somerton. William Lewis has a variety of strawberries that are just ripening now.

ABINGTON

POLICE NEWS.

Queenie Brown, of Davisville road, Willow Grove, complained that her husband, Monroe Brown, threatened her life and had him taken before Justice Williams in the Abington police court. Sergeant Lever and Officer Russell arrested Brown last Thursday night. The trouble started on Wednesday night at the colored church, where they both attended.

Edward Brown and Charles Fletcher Benny were arrested by Officer James Kenny on Monday night, they were taken in a suspicious character. The officer finding them prowling about the large houses near Township line, below Jenkintown. They were held for a further hearing before Judge Williams.

Mr. Martin Smith will occupy the old Bockius residence, on York road, opposite Eckard avenue.

There will be an entertainment in the high school this Saturday evening for the benefit of Rostyn mission.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. D. Rex entered at 4 o'clock on Friday evening given in honor of Mrs. Rex's birthday.

Abington Field club football team will play the Fort Washington team on the high school ground this Saturday.

The schools throughout the township will be closed next week to allow the teachers to attend the Institute at Norristown.

Horace avenue is being resurfaced by a preparation of asphalt and stone. This will be quite an improvement when completed.

The detention room, used for the locking up of children and women, at the township jail, is being renovated and wainscoted.

Charles O. Kruger is having a chicken house for a length of time at the rear of his lot. It will be fitted with all up-to-date appliances.

The Abington high school football team was defeated by the Chester high school No. 2 club, in a score of 5 to 2, on the home ground, on Wednesday.

An interesting service is to take place in Abington Presbyterian church this coming Sunday evening. Mr. Frank E. Higgins, the "Slay Pilot" of Ralph Connor's book, is to be present and tell of his work.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Mary R. Stevenson, formerly of Abington, who is to be married to T. Ellis Harvey, of Kansas City, Mo., the Fourth Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, on November 1st.

Miss Marie Westbrook, organist in the Abington church, is married to Thomas Dager in the Baptist church in Camden, of which her father is the pastor. On Thursday of this week at 8 o'clock Rev. James W. Williams of Abington, assisted in the ceremony.

Worship in Abington church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Subject, "The Forensic Life." Sunday school 9.45 a. m. Mr. Higgins will be present and will give the service at 8 o'clock. Wednesday evening worship and Bible class in the church.

The Spirit believes that it is a very important that Charles O. Kruger should be retained in office as Township Commissioner. Mr. Kruger has been in the board since Abington township joined the ranks of first-class, has given much valuable service to the township, studying methods of other first-class townships, and adopting the most improved up-to-date methods, saving much money for the taxpayers in useless expenses. See what has been done in the past few years in Abington and since Mr. Kruger has been a member of the board of commissioners.

Up-to-date police service, fire protection, macadamized streets, lighted highways and the residents of the township have been given and are getting nearly everything that a resident of a city has. These changes have nearly all come about since Mr. Kruger has given his service to the township. He is faithful in his attendance and can be found at all meetings of the board unless prevented by illness; has at heart the good of the township and constantly in mind the welfare of the township residents. Not only does he give his time and attendance to meetings but a very great many evenings are spent in assisting with any improvements or work the township has under way. Just now when political strife is at its height, it is well for all well meaning and thinking people to remember what Mr. Kruger has done and support him on election day.

Five hundred dollars is pledged by one member of the Fort-Washington Fire Company toward a new firehouse.

Chicken thieves have been unusually active of late in the vicinity of North Wales and Springfield. On the Lower State road 72 chickens were taken from the house of Mrs. Patrick Burk from the premises of Mrs. Patrick Burk.
